Fostering Students’ Creativity and Critical Thinking

WHAT IT MEANS IN SCHOOL

Stéphan Vincent-Lancrin, Carlos González-Sancho, Mathias Bouckaert, Federico de Luca, Meritxell Fernández-Barrerra, Gwénaël Jacotin, Joaquin Urgel and Quentin Vidal
Table of Contents

Foreword 3
Acknowledgements 4
Executive summary 14

Chapter 1. Overview

- Why creativity and critical thinking matter 18
- Fostering creativity and critical thinking in education: Project objectives 20
- Better understanding creativity and critical thinking 23
- Rubrics to support creativity and critical thinking in teaching and learning 26
- Lesson plans to support creativity and critical thinking 29
- Professional development plans 34
- Feedback from the fieldwork 35
- Take-aways and next steps 39
- Notes 42
- References 42

Chapter 2. Creativity and critical thinking: From concepts to teacher-friendly rubrics

- Creativity and critical thinking: Two distinct skills that matter 46
- Definitions, theories and dimensions of creativity and critical thinking 54
- Using rubrics to improve teaching, learning and assessment 65
- Development of the OECD rubrics: The convergence process 76
- How teachers and teams used the rubric(s) in the field 78
- Summary and conclusion 83
- Notes 86
- References 86
- Annex 2.A2. Examples of rubrics used or designed by project teams in participating countries 96

Chapter 3. Eleven signature pedagogies related to the fostering of creativity and critical thinking

- Signature pedagogies: What are we talking about? 100
  1. Creative Partnerships (all subjects) 101
  2. Design Thinking (all subjects) 103
  3. Dialogic teaching (all subjects) 105
4. Metacognitive pedagogy (maths education, all subjects): CREATE 107
5. Modern Band movement (music education) 109
6. Montessori (all subjects) 111
7. Orff Schulwerk (music education) 113
8. Project-Based Learning (science education, all subjects) 115
9. Research-based learning (science education) 117
10. Studio Thinking (visual arts education) 119
11. Teaching for Artistic Behavior (visual arts education) 121

References 123

Chapter 4. Creativity and critical thinking in everyday teaching and learning 127

A framework to design learning experiences that nurture creativity and critical thinking 128
What could it look like? Examples from lesson plans across subject areas 135
Key insights 158
Notes 161
References 162

Chapter 5. Teacher professional development plans 165

Introduction 166
Teacher professional development plans: the key ingredients 166
Individual follow-up 171
Peer dialogue 174
Lessons learnt 179
References 181

Chapter 6. Teacher attitudes and practices around creativity and critical thinking 183

Introduction 184
Shaping teachers’ attitudes and practices for fostering innovation skills 184
Teacher attitudes towards creativity and critical thinking 188
Teachers’ instruction and assessment practices around creativity and critical thinking 199
Teachers’ reports on the intervention 204
Key insights 211
Notes 213
References 215
Annex A. List of tables available online 219