Simon Adler

Political Economy in the Habsburg Monarchy 1750–1774

The Contribution of Ludwig Zinzendorf
CONTENTS

1 Introduction

2 Zinzendorf with Kaunitz in France, 1750–1752
   Zinzendorf and Kaunitz
   Travels in Brittany
      The French Navy and the French Trade Company
   The ‘Mémoire’ on the French Economy

3 French Intellectual Influence: Melon and Gournay
   ‘Essai sur l’Établissement d’une Banque Générale des États’
   The Importance of Melon’s Essai Politique
   Jacques Vincent de Gournay

4 The German Translation of Law’s Money and Trade, 1758
   Qualities of Money
   Trade and Money
   Banks
   Currency Variations
   The Disadvantages of Silver Money and Advantages of Land
   Law’s Proposal to Issue Paper Money
   Bringing Law’s Thinking up to Date
5 The Development of Zinzendorf’s Thinking on State Credit

Better Credit for War Finance 135
The Vienna City Bank 146
The Survey of European Banks 152
  Banks for the Expansion of Commerce 154
  Banks for the Increase in the Supply of Money 159
Political Banks 166
The Significance of Zinzendorf’s Writings 187

6 The Financial Expert of the Habsburg Monarchy

Zinzendorf’s Formation 192
The Circle Around Zinzendorf 201
Projectors 209
Debates Within Government 221
  Debates over Institutional Reform 221
  The Institutions for Commercial Affairs 225
  Zinzendorf’s Role in Institutional Change 228
  Zinzendorf’s Wider Role in Debates Within Central Government 236
  Comparison with the Bureau du Commerce 239
The Public Sphere 241
Zinzendorf’s Different Kind of Economic Discussion 245

7 Conclusion 251

Bibliography 261

Index 281