

The Economics and Politics of European Integration

Populism, Nationalism and the History of the EU

Ivan T. Berend

Contents

List of illustrations	xi
A personal introductory note	xii
1 The new postwar economic and political world order: the ground paved for European integration	1
War devastation	1
The collapse of colonial empires	3
A return to normalcy?	4
Rebuilding the postwar capitalist economic regime: welfare capitalism	8
Building the free trade system and international institutions	9
American assistance to Europe	10
Rearranging the postwar world: the rising Cold War regime	13
The bomb and the nuclear arms race	15
Cold war crises of 1948–1950: close to a World War III	16
Forming the new Cold War political world order	17
A new solution to the “German Question”	19
The plan for a joint Western European army	24
2 Federalist dreamers and pragmatic integrationists: the conceptualization and first steps towards a United States of Europe	30
The idea of a United States of Europe	30
American plans and efforts to Unite Europe	40
New American integration plans: looking for a European leader	42
The failure to convince Britain	43
Successfully blackmailing France	46
American successes, pragmatic European politicians: the coal and steel community	53

	Deciding how to go further	59
	The impact of integration on economic recuperation	65
	The first crisis and curbing further integration	67
3	The main institutional structure and policy agendas of the European community	77
	The governing institutions of the community and their reforms	77
	The question of democratic deficit	80
	Common policy agendas	82
	Common Agricultural Policy (CAP)	84
	Aiding less-developed regions	86
	Social policy	87
	European Neighborhood Policy (ENP)	87
4	The new challenges of globalization and global political disorder – Europe's answer: regionalization (the 1980s–1990s)	91
	The globalized capitalist world economy and the technological revolution	91
	Neoliberal theory and policy	94
	America and Asia conquer huge parts of the European markets	95
	The rearranged world political order	97
	Civil wars, coups and regime changes	101
	Lack of hegemony and global governance	103
	Economic crisis and mistaken answers	104
	Concerted European policy needed	105
	Big corporations for European cooperation	106
	Renewed leadership: Mitterrand-Kohl-Delors and the single Europe act	109
	Regionalization: the answer to globalization and the Maastricht Treaty	112
5	Four decades of permanent enlargement of the union and its dangers	125
	The first enlargement in 1973	126
	The 1980s: the American alliance with Mediterranean dictatorships and the second wave of enlargement	129
	The 1990s: third wave of enlargement	135

The end of the Cold War: a new opening towards the East	137
The 2000s: the fourth enlargement wave, three groups of potential members	139
Central Europe and the Baltics: thirteen countries join	141
The postponed acceptance of the West Balkans	144
The case of the western former Soviet republics	145
Watch out Europe, reconsider further enlargement	149
Epidemic corruption in the Balkans	153

6 The triple crises and escaping ahead: 2008–2020 161

The economic recession of 2008	161
Financial-economic crisis in Europe	163
Collapse of the euro currency?	165
“The Euro is Already Saved!”	168
Escaping by running ahead: the euro-zone	169
Migration crisis, 2015–2016	171
Against a new pressure of migration	175
The COVID-19 crisis	177
Escaping by running ahead: coronabond?	181
Escaping by running ahead: steps towards military integration	185

7 Disappointment and anger: the rise of anti-EU populist nationalism 197

Nixon and Khrushchev: the kitchen debate	197
Growing inequality and insecurity	198
The political revolt against the elite	201
Nationalist-populist attacks against the European Union	205
The anti-EU campaign combined with anti-Soros attacks in Eastern Europe	215
Britain leaves the European Union	217

8 An increasingly hostile international environment 228

Turkey: from candidate to enemy	228
Putin’s Russia became hostile	230
A new rival: China and the Balkan silk road	237
Russian-Chinese military cooperation	243
Loosening alliances and rising hostility: the United States	243

9	Conclusion: the socioeconomic achievements	254
	The European economy before integration	254
	Economic advantage of integration	254
	The catching-up of less developed countries	257
	Europe and the United States	258
	Modernized structure and the social market system	260
	What about the future?	263
	 Index	 267