

MAEVE McCLENAGHAN

NO FIXED ABODE

Life and Death Among the UK's Forgotten Homeless

PICADOR

Contents

Preface	ix
Author's Note	xv

PART ONE Who Counts?

Chapter 1	It started with a death	3
Chapter 2	Search for shelter	16
Chapter 3	Sick and tired	30
Chapter 4	You are homeless. Do not pass go.	40
Chapter 5	Doctors on the borders	52

PART TWO Who Will Catch You When You Fall?

Chapter 6	Cracks	65
Chapter 7	Make them count	77
Chapter 8	The bus	81
Chapter 9	Missed	88
Chapter 10	The journey	95
Chapter 11	One summer's night	105
Chapter 12	The Belgian Waffle	116
Chapter 13	Lessons unlearnt	134
Chapter 14	The park bench	145
Chapter 15	Violence on the streets	160
Chapter 16	There's no place like home	172
Chapter 17	Peace at last	181

PART THREE There Are Lessons to be Learnt

Chapter 18	Party	191
Chapter 19	Déjà vu	203
Chapter 20	The count	212
Chapter 21	Hidden	224
Chapter 22	Resurrection	238
Chapter 23	Homelessness is a prison	250
Chapter 24	Sanctity and miracles	260

PART FOUR Change

Chapter 25	It can be different	273
Chapter 26	Back in court	280
Chapter 27	Beginning, again	288
Chapter 28	Goodbye	294
Chapter 29	Now we know	299
Chapter 30	An early Christmas present	309
Chapter 31	'Tis the season	313
Chapter 32	Start again	322
Epilogue	What to do now we've found the holes	327
About this project		336
What can I do?		339
Acknowledgements		341
Notes		343