MARKKU KOTILAINEN – VILLE KAITILA

ECONOMIC GLOBALISATION IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES – THE CASES OF NEPAL AND TANZANIA

Published by Taloustieto Oy in association with ETLA, The Research Institute of the Finnish Economy

Helsinki 2002
CONTENTS

SUMMARY

1 INTRODUCTION 1

2 ECONOMIC GLOBALISATION FROM THE POINT OF VIEW OF DEVELOPING COUNTRIES 5
2.1 What Do We Mean by Globalisation? 5
2.2 History of Globalisation 14
2.3 How Does Globalisation Affect the Developing Countries Economically? 21

3 A COMPARISON OF FINLAND'S LONG-TERM DEVELOPMENT PARTNERS 29
3.1 Selected Social Indicators 29
3.2 Gross Domestic Product 30
3.3 Foreign Trade Arrangements 32
3.4 Developing Countries’ Foreign Trade 35
3.5 Economic and Structural Policies 38
3.6 Foreign Direct Investment 42
3.7 Foreign Debt 47

4 NEPAL 49
4.1 Basic Facts about Nepal 49
4.2 Latest Macroeconomic Developments 57
4.3 Gross Domestic Product 60
4.4 Foreign Trade Regime and International Integration 76
4.5 Current Account and Foreign Trade 88
4.6 Foreign Direct Investment into Nepal 104
4.7 Government Finances, Foreign Aid, and International Indebtedness 112
4.8 Monetary and Exchange Rate Policies 117
4.9 Nepal and Globalisation: A Summary 121