

860 617 890

Ismail M. Moumouni

Motivation of Farmers in Financing
Agricultural Research and Extension in Benin

Verlag
Dr. Köster
Berlin

Table of contents

Dedication.....	v
Preface.....	vi
Acknowledgments.....	vii
Abstract.....	viii
Zusammenfassung.....	x
Résumé.....	xiii
Table of contents.....	xvii
List of tables.....	xxi
List of figures.....	xxiii
List of photos.....	xxiv
List of abbreviations.....	xxv
PART 1: RESEARCH DESIGN.....	1
CHAPTER 1: RESEARCH SUBJECT, OBJECTIVES AND QUESTIONS.....	1
1.1. Background information.....	1
1.2. Farmer financial participation.....	3
1.2.1. Farmer financial participation to development projects as emerging paradigm.....	3
1.2.2. Farmer financial participation to agricultural research and extension as an exciting practical research subject.....	5
1.3. Motivation of the farmer to finance agricultural research and extension: a root to dig.....	7
1.3.1. “Willingness to pay” perspective.....	7
1.3.2. Motivation to finance agricultural research and extension as a new research phenomenon.....	8
1.4. Setting the boundaries of the research subject.....	11
1.4.1. The concept of motivation.....	11
1.4.2. From perception to decision-making but without psycho-physiology.....	12
1.4.3. Motivation in the middle way between impulsive and rational phenomenon.....	13
1.5. Research objectives and questions.....	13
1.5.1. Research objectives.....	15
1.5.2. Research questions.....	16
1.6. Structure of the book.....	16
CHAPTER 2: RESEARCH METHODOLOGY.....	19
2.1. Embedding quantitative methods within qualitative method.....	19
2.2. Case study research.....	21
2.3. Data collection.....	23
2.3.1. Location and characteristics of the study areas.....	23
2.3.2. Data collection procedures and tools.....	23
2.3.3. Methods of motivation measurement.....	27
2.4. Qualitative data analysis.....	29
2.4.1. Grounded theory approach.....	30
2.4.2. Revealing quotations, life stories and proverbs.....	32
2.4.3. Document content analysis for policy analysis.....	33

2.5. Quantitative data analysis.....	34
2.5.1. Logistic regression.....	34
2.5.2. K-means cluster analysis.....	38
2.6. Overview of research phases.....	42
PART 2: POLICY-EFFECTS ANALYSIS.....	44
CHAPTER 3: HISTORICAL AND POLITICAL CONTEXT IN FINANCING AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH AND EXTENSION.....	44
3.1. Agricultural research and extension policy of NEPAD.....	44
3.1.1. Understanding and policy of agricultural research and extension.....	44
3.1.2. Approach for funding agricultural research and extension.....	46
3.2. Background on Benin's agricultural research and extension.....	47
3.2.1. Evolution of agricultural intervention approaches and systems.....	48
3.2.2. Evolution of agricultural services funding policies in Benin.....	51
3.3. From policy to action plans.....	54
3.3.1. Research action plan.....	54
3.3.2. Extension action plan.....	56
3.4. Exploring the main adjustments and implications.....	58
3.4.1. Reinforcement of the liberalisation and privatisation processes.....	58
3.4.2. New way of designing development project.....	59
3.4.3. Structural reforms and adjustments.....	60
3.5. Concluding analyses.....	61
CHAPTER 4: EXPLORING PRIVATE RESEARCH AND EXTENSION IN BENIN.....	65
4.1. Service organisations in private agricultural research and extension.....	65
4.1.1. Characteristics of the service organisations.....	66
4.1.2. Funding systems.....	73
4.2. Farmer organisations in private agricultural research and extension.....	75
4.2.1. Characteristics of the farmer organisations.....	75
4.2.2. Fund mobilisation systems.....	77
4.3. Services subject of deal.....	78
4.3.1. Provided services.....	78
4.3.2. Description of services matter of deal.....	80
4.4. Concluding remarks.....	81
PART 3: MOTIVATIONAL PROFILES OF FARMERS.....	83
CHAPTER 5: REVIEW OF THREE CASE STUDIES.....	83
5.1. Justification of cases selection.....	83
5.2. Special Programme for Food Security.....	84
5.2.1. Characterisation of services offered by PSSA: Specific purpose knowledge.....	86
5.2.2. PSSA intervention approach: Self implementation of activities with involvement of public organisation.....	87
5.2.3. PSSA financing mechanism and farmers' contribution: mixed contribution.....	88
5.3. Union of South Benin Farmers.....	90
5.3.1. Characterisation of the services offered by UPS: Bunch of services for organising commodity network.....	91

5.3.2. UPS intervention approach: Self-provision of service by recruiting extension workers	92
5.3.3. UPS financing mechanism and farmers' contribution: indirect participation.....	93
5.4. Support Unit for Management Advice.....	93
5.4.1. Characterisation of the services offered by the CADG: Multiple purpose knowledge	94
5.4.2. CADG intervention approach: Mandate from PADSE through contracting	95
5.4.3. CADG financing mechanism and farmers' contribution: Direct participation....	96
5.5. Concluding remarks	97

CHAPTER 6: ANALYSING FARMERS' PERCEPTIONS OF SERVICE

ORGANISATIONS, SERVICES AND FARMER ORGANISATIONS 99

6.1. Farmers' perceptions of service organisations.....	99
6.1.1. Theoretical considerations.....	99
6.1.2. Goal reaching possibilities	102
6.1.3. Participation opportunities	104
6.1.4. Integration of the field worker into the community	105
6.2. Factors related to services or technologies	107
6.2.1. Theoretical considerations.....	107
6.2.2. Complexity and practicability	109
6.2.3. Risk factor	111
6.2.4. Financial advantages	112
6.3. Factors related to farmer organisations	114
6.3.1. Theoretical considerations.....	114
6.3.2. Basis of the organisation	116
6.3.3. Functioning of farmer organisations	118

CHAPTER 7: PROFILES OF MOTIVATION..... 122

7.1. Profile of motivation to pay for ARE services according to socio-economic factors.....	124
7.1.1. Effect of socio-economic factors on motivation to pay for ARE services.....	124
7.1.2. Profile of motivation with regard to socio-economic characteristics of the farmer	125
7.2. Profiles of motivation according to perceptions	128
7.2.1. Profiles of motivation according to perceptions of services	128
7.2.2. Profiles of motivation according to perceptions of farmer organisations	132
7.2.3. Profiles of motivation according to perceptions of service organisations	135
7.3. Concluding remarks	140

PART 4: MOTIVATION DEVELOPMENT 142

CHAPTER 8: INTERNAL SOURCES OF MOTIVATION OF FARMERS 142

8.1. Theories of internal motivation factors.....	142
8.2. Needs as sources of motivation.....	144
8.2.1. Needs for social prestige	145
8.2.2. Needs for knowledge.....	147
8.3. Expectations as sources of motivation.....	149
8.3.1. Expectation of material catchments	150

8.3.2. Expectation of meeting farm goals	152
8.4. Concluding analyses	155
8.4.1. Overlapping sources and predispositional patterns of motivation.....	155
8.4.2. Socio-economic aspirations as mediators of motivation	157
8.4.3. Theoretical contextualisation of the internal sources of motivation model.....	158
CHAPTER 9: EXTERNAL MOTIVATION FACTORS.....	160
9.1. Theories of external motivation factors.....	160
9.1.1. Theories of characteristics and environment of job.....	161
9.1.2. Equity and organisational justice theories	162
9.2. External factors of motivation	163
9.2.1. Increasing participation strategy	164
9.2.2. Fulfilling of farmers' needs	169
9.2.3. Local leadership valorisation	172
9.3. Concluding analyses	176
9.3.1. Combination of sub-strategies and strategies	176
9.3.2. Motivation strategies and socio-economic aspirations	176
9.3.3. Theoretical contextualisation of the external sources of motivation model	177
CHAPTER 10: MOTIVATION PROCESSES.....	179
10.1. Theories of motivation process	179
10.2. Motivation processes	182
10.2.1. Motivation diversion.....	184
10.2.2. Motivation congruence	193
10.3. Concluding analysis.....	199
10.3.1. Effects of motivation processes	199
10.3.2. Theoretical contextualisation of the motivation processes model.....	201
PART 5: CONCLUSIONS AND IMPLICATIONS OF FINDINGS.....	203
CHAPTER 11: CONCLUSIONS AND IMPLICATIONS OF FINDINGS.....	203
11.1. Summary: Postulates and corollaries of the bidirectional motivation theory	203
11.2. Theoretical contextualisation of the bidirectional motivation theory	205
11.3. Implications of findings.....	208
11.3.1. With regard to the ownership of services and accountability to farmers-payers	209
11.3.2. With regard to the theory of private and public goods	210
11.3.3. How to improve the financial participation of farmers? Some suggestions.....	211
11.4. Orientations for further researches and reflexive analyses.....	214
11.4.1. Orientations for further research.....	214
11.4.2. Reflexive analyses	216
REFERENCES.....	218