Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS .......................................................... ix
INTRODUCTION ............................................................... 1

PART 1  A Non-Negotiable Sovereignty?
1 THE PROPER SWINDLE: Commercial and Financial Legislation of the 1880s. ......................................................... 33
2 CAPITALISM'S IDOLATRY: The Law of Charitable Trusts,
3 FOR GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITY: Sovereignty, Philanthropy, and Market Governance, 1890–1920. ............................ 103

PART 2  Negotiating Subjects
4 HEDGING BETS: Speculation, Gambling, and Market Ethics,
1890–1930. .................................................................. 143
5 ECONOMIC AGENTS, CULTURAL SUBJECTS:
Gender, the Joint Family, and the Making of Capitalist Subjects, 1900–1940. ................................................................. 199

CONCLUSION: Colonial Modernity and the Social Worlds of Capital. ................................................................. 232

NOTES ............................................................................. 239
REFERENCES .................................................................. 307
INDEX ............................................................................. 329