

GREED, LUST & GENDER

A HISTORY OF ECONOMIC IDEAS

NANCY FOLBRE

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Epigraph	xvii
Introduction	xix
1. The Eye of the Needle	I
Liberation	2
Damnation	4
Patriarchal Feudalism	5
The Growth of Markets	7
Patriarchal Ideology	8
Markets and Mentalités	11
Regulation	13
2. The Springs of Desire	18
The Commonwealth of Fathers	19
Patriarchy Defended	21
Patriarchy Modified	22
A Supremacy to Themselves	25
(Re)production	27
Sexual Efficiency	29
Contractual Power	30
3. Defining Virtues	35
The Ancient Regime	36
Age and Gender, Love and Sex	38
The Rebellion of the Harem	39
The Climate of Reason	41

xii TABLE OF CONTENTS

Self, Love, God, and Nature	43
Commerce and Virtue	44
Human Nature	45
4. Free Trade but Not Free Love	49
Humanism	50
Selfishness Celebrated	51
Sexual Regulation	54
Love Thyself	55
The Butcher, the Baker, and the Wife	58
The Balance	61
5. The Limits of Affection	67
Sweet Commerce	68
The Fraternal Compromise	70
Slavery and Evil	72
Feminism and Abolition	75
Observers from Abroad	77
Democracy in America	78
6. The Perfectibility of Man	84
Progress?	85
Of Bread and Cake	88
Interests and the Revolution	89
Malevolence Theorized	93
Timid Egoism	95
7. The Greatest Happiness	99
Chivalry versus Calculation	100
The Vindication	101
Godwin's Enquiry	103
The Greatest Good	105
Gendered Virtues	108
8. Self-love, Triumphant	111
Poor Relief	112
The Essay on Population	113
Against Benevolence	116

The Improper Arts	117
Malthus and Women	120
Enlightenment Redux	121
9. Production and Reproduction	125
Patriarchal Capitalism	126
The Rise of Individual Occupations	128
The Labor Theory of Value	130
Child Labor and the Poor Laws	132
Fertility and Out-of-Wedlock Births	134
The Wages of Virtue	135
Family Disruptions	138
10. Whose Wealth?	143
Wealth Demoralized	144
The Limits to Growth	145
Collective Interests	147
The Corn Laws	149
Free Trade	150
Protectionism	152
Selfish Classes	154
11. The Social Family	158
The Social Father	159
The Great Dream	161
Class and Gender	163
Owen's Economics	164
The Appeal of One-Half the Human Race	165
Feminist Socialism	167
Utopian and Scientific	169
12. Equal Opportunities	174
Napoleonic Code	175
Secular Humanism	176
The Sexual Radicals	177
Le Tribune des Femmes	179
The Calculus of Harmony	180
The Sexual Welfare State	182

Brook Farm	184
Crazy Attempts	186
13. The Subjection of Women	190
The Partnership	191
The Subjection of Women	195
Political Activism	198
A Fundamental Question	201
14. Declaring Independence	205
Peculiar Institutions	206
Equality and Difference	208
Collective Interests	211
The Economic Significance of Family Work	212
Divorce and Reproductive Rights	214
Balancing Acts	217
15. The Icy Waters	222
Revolutions	223
Scientific Self-Interest	225
The Holy Family	226
The Response to Bebel	227
Bebel and Social Democracy	229
The Survival of the Altruistic	230
The Free Development of All	232
16. The Sacred Sphere	235
Domestic Advice	236
The Meaning of Motherhood	238
Neoclassical Altruism	239
Women's Duties	243
Virtue and Consequences	247
17. The Unproductive Housewife	251
Counting Workers	252
The U.S. and Massachusetts Censuses	253
A Double Bind	256
Home Economics and Household Production	258

National Income and the Value of Labor Services	260
The Meaning of the Adjectives	263
18. The Nanny State	268
Fear of Fertility Decline	269
The Family Wage	270
The Fabians	271
The Endowment of Motherhood	274
Minimum Wages for Women in the U.S.	276
Birth Control	278
Sleeping Beauty Awakes	279
The Glorious Unfolding	281
Public Support and Reproductive Rights	282
19. Human Capitalism	287
Social Welfare	288
The Opposite Reaction	290
Everyone a Capitalist	293
Capitalizing Humans	295
The Altruistic Family	297
Families, Gender Inequality, and the State	299
The Third Realm	301
20. Beyond Economic Man	305
The Waves	306
Feminist Economics	307
Motivations	308
Markets and Non-Markets	310
The Costs of Care	311
Gender Norms	312
Fairness, Reciprocity, and Care	315
Gross National Happiness	316
Rational and Caring People	318
Conclusion	324
Bibliography	329
Index	373