Contents

Appendix of Sources ix
Timeline xiii
Legends in Marketing xv
Legends in Marketing: Kent B. Monroe xix
Volume Introduction: The Effects of Comparative Price Advertisements and Related Contextual Factors by Albert J. Della Bitta xxi

Extending the Reference Price Concept

1. The Influence of Comparative Price Advertisements on Patronage Behavior (with Albert J. Della Bitta) 3
2. A Multivariate Analysis of the Perception of Value from Retail Price Advertisements (with Albert J. Della Bitta) 19
3. Consumer Perceptions of Comparative Price Advertisements (with Albert J. Della Bitta and John M. McGinnis) 32
4. Effects of Shopping Information on Consumers' Responses to Comparative Price Claims (with Edward A. Blair and Judy Harris) 54

Examining the Effects of Contextual Information

5. The Effect of Contextual Cues on Korean Consumers' Perceptions of Comparative Price Advertisements (with So-Eun Hyun) 69

Extensions to Online Marketing

7. The Effect of Computer Anxiety on Price Value Trade-Off in the On-Line Environment (with Rajneesh Suri, Julie Anne Lee, and Rajesh V. Manchanda) 99
8. Price Communications in Online and Print Coupons: An Empirical Investigation (with Rajneesh Suri and Srinivasan Swaminathan) 119
Perspectives of Other Scholars

9. Managerial Implications of Kent Monroe’s Research on Comparative Price Advertising by Edward A. Blair 139

11. Knowledge Development: Professor Kent B. Monroe’s Way—Comparative Price Advertising by Ram Krishnan 159

Albert J. Della Bitta Interviews Kent B. Monroe

12. Price Comparative Advertising: Some Key Questions 175

About the Editors and Contributors 181