

Liberalisation and Trade Reforms in Indian Agriculture

Impacts on women, food security and livelihoods

Amita Shah
Anil Kumar Roy

January 2012

Gujarat Institute of Development Research
Ahmedabad

B 387300

Contents

All rights reserved. GIDR Occasional Paper Series disseminates the findings of research being carried out at the Gujarat Institute of Development Research (GIDR). This publication may be referred to with proper citation and due acknowledgement to the author(s).

© Gujarat Institute of Development Research

First Published January 2012

ISBN 81-89023-80-2

Price ₹.125

About the author(s):

Amita Shah (amita@gidr.ac.in) is Professor and Director at the Gujarat Institute of Development Research, Ahmedabad.

Anil Kumar Roy (anil.roy@cept.ac.in) is Associate Professor, Faculty of Planning and Public Policy, CEPT University, Ahmedabad.

	Page No.
Acknowledgements	iv
Preface	v
Acronyms used	vi
1. Introduction	1
2. Contextualising Agricultural Trade: Major Issues	3
2.1 Agricultural Trade, Economic Growth, and Human Welfare: An Overview	4
2.2. Major Issues	5
2.2.1. Comparative Advantage and Sustainable Resource Use	5
2.2.2. Supply Response	6
2.2.3. Gainers and Losers (producers vs. consumers)	6
2.2.4. Employment and Livelihood	6
2.2.5. Exports for Financing Imports?	7
3. Agriculture Development Scenarios and Role of Women in India	8
3.1. Crisis and Renewed Policy Thrust	8
3.1.1. Crop-Diversification and Food Security: Recent Evidence	10
3.1.2. Expanding Opportunities in the Lagging Regions	12
3.2. Women's Role in Agriculture	13
3.2.1. Female Workforce in Rural India	13
3.3. Women's Relative Share in the Workforce in Agriculture Sector	16
4. AoA and Agricultural Trade Scenario in India	20
4.1. AoA: Structure and Negotiations	20
4.2. India's Commitments under AoA and Impact on Selected Commodities	22
4.3. Changing scenario of India's Agricultural Trade	23
4.3.1. India's Agri-Trade in the Post AOA Period	23
4.3.2. Competitive Advantage	23
4.3.3. Commodity Composition of Exports and Imports: Recent Scenario	24
4.3.4. Emerging Scenario	29
5. Impact of Agricultural Trade and Labour Laws: Evidence from Case Studies	32
5.1. Indian Floriculture Sector and Trade in India	32
5.1.1. Overview	32
5.1.2. Production and spatial distribution	33
5.1.3. Export	33

5.1.4. Critical Policy issues: Who gets what?	34
5.2. Marine Fisheries and Trade in India	36
5.2.1. Overview	36
5.2.2. India's Marine Fish Production and Export in the last Decade	36
5.2.3. Critical Policy Issues: Benefits and loss (Losers and Gainers)	36
5.3. Plantation Agriculture	39
5.3.1. Crisis in plantation agriculture and coping mechanisms	40
5.3.2. Employment and Wages in Plantation Industries	40
5.4 Processing of Cashewnut: A Case of Informalisation	42
5.5. Deepening Agrarian Crisis under Liberalisation: The Case of Farmer Suicides in Maharashtra, Punjab and Kerala	43
5.5.1. Context	43
5.5.2. Farmer Suicides in Maharashtra	43
5.5.3. Farmer Suicides in Kerala	44
5.5.4. Institutional Credit, Indebtedness and Suicides in Punjab	45
5.5.5. Policy Implications	46
5.6. Trade Liberalisation and Indian Seed Industries: IPR Perspective	47
5.6.1. Structure and policy regulations of seed Industry in India	47
5.6.2. Appropriateness and gains under liberalised era	48
5.6.3. Policy imperatives	49
5.7. Impact of Contract Farming in India-some case studies	49
5.7.1. Contract Cotton Seed production in Andhra Pradesh	50
5.7.1.1. Process of labour Exploitation	51
5.7.1.2. Contracting for Child labour Exploitation	51
5.7.2. Tomato and potato contract farming in Punjab	51
5.7.2.1. Labour Scenario in Tomato Farming	52
5.7.2.2. Labour Scenario in Potato Farming	52
5.8. Hidden risk of environmental degradation	53
6. Safeguarding the Interests of Producers and Workers	54
6.1 India's Submission for Tightening the Compliance by Developed Countries	54
6.2 Recognition of Special Products and livelihood protection	55
6.3. Non-Trade Concerns and Food Security	56
7. Summary and Way Forward	58
References	61

List of Boxes

1. Globalization and Expanding Market for Cut-Flower: Who benefits?	35
2. Aquaculture in India: Trends, issues and Development	37-38

List of Chart

1. Structure of Agreement on Agriculture	21
--	----

List of Tables/ Appendix

1. Trends in area, production and productivity of food and non-food crops in India	11
2. Gender Composition of Workers in Rural India- 1991 and 2001	14
3. Sectoral composition of workforce by gender (1983 to 2004-05)	14
4. Percentage Distribution of Workers by Sub-Sectors in Agriculture	15
5. Status of Employment in Rural India- 1993-94 to 2004-05 (Usual Status)	16
6. Share of female workers in total agricultural workforce and wage-differentials, 2001	17
7. Share of Females in Total Employment in Agriculture: Operation and Sub-Sector wise	18
8. Estimate of Employment in Various Food Processing Industries, 2000-01 (Nos.)	19
9. Recent Trends in India's Agricultural Trade	24
10a. Commodity Composition of India's Agricultural Exports (Value in percentage)	25
10b. Commodity Composition of India's Agricultural Imports (Value in percentage)	25-26
11. Growth Rates and CVs of Values and Quantities of Agri-Exports for 1990-2004	27
12. Growth Rates and CV of Values and Quantities of Agri-Imports, 1990-2004	27-28
13. Coefficients of Relative Prices (Domestic Price/ World Price)	28-29
14. Post WTO Trade Scenario for Major Commodities and Implications for Future Negotiations and Strategy	31
15. Distribution of Workforce in Plantation Industries by Sex and Age, 2006	41
16. Product Categories in India worth considering for SP status	56
Appendix 1: India's Share in World Trade (Value in US billion $)	60