Working Scared
(Or Not at All)
The Lost Decade, Great Recession, and Restoring the Shattered American Dream

Carl E. Van Horn
Contents

Acknowledgments xi
Introduction xiii

1 Working Scared in America and the Great Recession 1
   The “Hurricane Katrina” of Recessions 4
   The Sudden Collapse and Painful Aftermath 8
   Did Unemployed Workers Recover? 11
      Bleak Outlooks 12
   A Silent Mental Health Epidemic 13
      A World of Hurt for the Long-Term Unemployed 14
   Bitter Legacies 16

2 Is the American Worker Disposable? 21
   What Happened to the Employer/Employee Compact? 24
   Four Forces Downsizing the American Worker 25
      Globalization and Offshoring 28
      Mergers, Acquisitions, and Restructuring 31
      Deindustrialization to Knowledge Economy 32
      Deunionization 34
   Education and Training Gaps 37
      Education Spending P-20 38
      Job Training Programs for the Unemployed 39
      Training at Work 39
   Transforming American Attitudes 43
Contents

3 New American Workplace Realities
- Declining Satisfaction at Work 50
- The Work–Family Imbalance 54
- Learning at Work 57
- An Unhealthy Insurance Trend 58
- A Workplace Divided 60
- A Workforce in Transition 65

4 Misery and Bleak Expectations for Older Unemployed Workers
- Last Fired, Never Rehired 70
- The Devastating Consequences of Long-Term Unemployment 77
- Ending Retirement as We Knew It 79
- What Older Workers Need 84
- Not So Golden Years 87

5 Unfulfilled Expectations for Recent College and High School Graduates
- Hit Hard by the Great Recession 94
  - Left Out of the Labor Market 94
  - A Disappointing Start for College Graduates 99
  - Mountains of Debt 100
- More Grinders Than Slackers 101
- Are High School and College Graduates Prepared for Work? 102
  - Employers' Views 106
- Does Education Serve the Needs of Employers? How Much Should It? 109
- Next-Generation Education Reforms 114

6 Unfinished Business: Recovering from the Great Recession
- Bold Actions Battle the Financial Crisis 122
- A Painfully Slow Recovery Yields Disappointment 127
- Policy Gridlock 129
- Election-Year Policy and Politics 132
- Frustration and Protest 134
- Digging Out of the Ditch 137
  - Direct Job Creation 137
    - Infrastructure and Energy Grid Investments 138
    - Public Service Jobs 140
- Bolster and Refocus the Workforce Development System 141
- Shifting to Top Gear 143
Contents

7 Restoring the Shattered Dreams of American Workers 147
   A New Workforce Paradigm 149
   Assumptions, Expectations, and Hopes 151
   Four National Priorities 155
      Reform Education to Prepare Students for Careers 155
      Expand Lifelong Learning Opportunities for Workers 161
      Replace Unemployment Insurance with Reemployment Insurance 163
      Establish a Renewed Worker–Employer Compact 167
         Strengthening Advance Warning of Layoffs and Assistance 167
         Reinvigorate Workplace Family-Friendly and Flextime Policies 168
      Restoring Balance and Shared Sacrifice to Achieve Greater Prosperity 168

Significant Works 183

Index 187