

Theory and Empirical Research in Social Entrepreneurship

Edited by

Phillip H. Phan

Professor of Management, Johns Hopkins University, USA

Jill Kickul

*Director, NYU-Stern Program in Social Entrepreneurship,
New York University Stern School of Business, USA*

Sophie Bacq

*Assistant Professor, Entrepreneurship and Innovation,
Northeastern University D'Amore-McKim School of Business,
Boston, USA*

Mattias Nordqvist

*Professor of Business Administration, Jönköping International Business School, Sweden and Director, Center for Family
Enterprise Ownership (CeFEO), Sweden*

THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY SERIES ON ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Edward Elgar

Cheltenham, UK • Northampton, MA, USA

Contents

List of contributors	vii
Introduction Phillip H. Phan	1
PART I THE EXTANT LITERATURE
1. Research in social entrepreneurship: from historical roots to future routes Huriye Aygören	11
PART II THEORIES AND EVIDENCE
2. A social exchange theory of non-governmental organizations as social entrepreneurs in rural entrepreneurship Soo-Hoon Lee	73
3. A theoretical model for understanding the scalability of social impact Christiana Weber, Arne Kroeger and Kathrin Lambrich	112
4. What really matters: a theoretical model for the assessment of social enterprise performance Ann-Kristin Achleitner, Peter Heister and Wolfgang Spiess-Knafl	154
5. An empirical analysis of the missions, funding sources, and survival of social ventures Albert V. Bruno, Jennifer L. Woolley and Eric D. Carlson	174
6. Crowdfunding, foundations, and impact investors as sources of financial capital for social entrepreneurs John E. Clarkin	191

PART III APPLICATIONS

7. Social entrepreneurial leadership: creating opportunities for autonomy	223
Jeroen Maas, Anastasia A. Seferiadis, Joske F.G. Bunders and Marjolein B.M. Zweekhorst
8. Value creation at the individual, venture and societal levels of analyses through social venture competitions	256
Moriah Meyskens and Nadia Auch
Conclusion	292
Phillip H. Phan
Index	297