

Structured Commodity Finance

Techniques and Applications for Successful Financing Arrangements

Second edition

Emmanuelle Moors and Lamon Rutten

Contents

Foreword	xv
Preface	xvii
List of abbreviations	xix
Acknowledgements	xxi
About the authors	xxiii
Introduction	xxv
Evolution of commodity financing	xxvi
The 1980s: financing trading companies on a corporate basis	xxvi
The 1990s: financing commodity producers and importers on a structured basis	xxvii
The 2000s: shock and awe	xxviii
What are the 2010s bringing?	xxix
What is structured commodity finance?	xxx
Scope	xxxi

Part 1 Traditional commodity trade finance

	Introduction to Part 1	3
1	Building blocks of trade finance: payment methods	5
	Open account	5
	Advance payment	6
	Documentary collection	7
	Documentary letters of credit	9
	Bank payment obligations	13
2	Basic trade financing instruments	15
	Post-shipment financing based on letters of credit	15
	Trade paper	15
	Bills of exchange and promissory notes	16
	Banker's acceptances	17
	Pre-shipment financing for importers	17
	Pre-shipment financing for exporters	18
	Evaluation of basic trade financing instruments	18
3	More advanced instruments and techniques	19
	Tailored letters of credit	19
	Revolving letters of credit	19
	Back to back letters of credit	20
	Transferable letters of credit	22
	Red-clause letters of credit	23

	Green-clause letters of credit	25
	Evaluation of more complex letters of credits	26
	Factoring and forfaiting, the fraternal twins	26
	Forfaiting	26
	Principles and characteristics	26
	Raising financing with forfaiting	27
	Evolution of the forfaiting markets and participants	27
	Factoring	28
	Principles and characteristics of cross-border factoring	28
	Raising financing with factoring	29
	Evolution of the factoring markets and participants	30
4	Evolution of traditional trade finance	32
Part 2 Structured commodity finance techniques
	Introduction to Part 2	35
5	Inventory financing	37
	Principles and background	37
	Basic transaction flows	39
	Term sheet	39
	Amount	39
	Borrower	39
	Commodities	40
	Disbursement	41
	Financing ratio	41
	Tenor	41
	Cost	42
	Repayment	42
	Security	42
	Benefits of inventory financing	44
	Exporters can raise attractive financing earlier in the marketing cycle	44
	Lenders have more control over the commodities	45
	Variations: financing the flow	45
	Variations: ownership-based financing	47
	Limits of inventory financing	49
	Required logistics is costly	49
	Additional exposure to volatile commodity markets	49
	Banks remain exposed to third-party fraud and performance risk	49
6	Structured pre-export financing	54
	Principles and background	54
	Pre-export receivables financing	54
	Prepayment financing	57

Basic transaction flows	58
Pre-export receivables financing	58
Prepayment financing	58
Term sheet	59
Pre-export receivables financing	59
Amount	59
Borrower	59
Commodities	59
Disbursement	60
Financing ratio	60
Tenor	61
Cost	61
Repayment	61
Security	61
Prepayment financing	64
Amount	64
Borrower	64
Commodities	64
Disbursement	64
Financing ratio	65
Tenor	65
Cost	65
Repayment	65
Security	66
Benefits of structured pre-export financing	75
Exporters can leverage their buyer relationships	75
Borrowers can benefit from lower payment risks of OECD and other creditworthy buyers	76
Pre-export structures can support longer-term financing	76
Additional benefits of prepayment structures	76
Limits of structured pre-export financing	77
Exporters are tied to existing buyers	77
Previously approved buyers can become off-limits	77
All-in cost can be high	77
Banks remain exposed to performance risk	78
7 Building on structured commodity financing techniques	80
Revolving funding for the full production cycle	80
Value chain finance	83
Financing indirect exporters	87
Adapting a principal financing approach to trade finance	88
Using structured commodity finance techniques for imports into non-
OECD countries	89
Inventory-based import financing	90

	Receivables finance for import transactions	91
	Additional security features	91
	Alternative assets for financing the commodity sector	94
	Transport and transit fees	94
	Royalties	95
	Tax receivables	95
	Balance sheet and income statement enhancing structures	95
	Leases	96
8	Countertrade	99
	Existing forms of countertrade	99
	Tolling	99
	Barter	101
	Counter-purchase	102
	Compensation trade	103
	Buy-back	104
	Offset	105
	Switch trade	105
	Evaluation of countertrade	106
9	Securitisation	109
	Principles	109
	Basic transactions flows	109
	Variations	110
	Overview of commodity sector securitisation	110
	Beneficiaries and use of funds	110
	Investors in commodity-linked securitisations	111
	Trends in securitisation	114
	Born in the USA	114
	Securitisations for large commodity producers and consumers	116
	Securitisation for tax optimisation and balance-sheet effect purposes	119
	Securitisation of commodity traders' receivables	122
	Securitisations of banks' commodity trade finance portfolios	123
	Evaluation of commodity-linked securitisations	126
	More flexibility and better terms for commodity owners	126
	A stronger security package can attract a wider range of investors	127
	Dependence on 'established' emerging markets	127
10	Due diligence	130
	Components of the marketing cycle	131
	Availability of the commodities	135
	Market risks	136
	Commodity buyers	137
	Price risk management	138

	Contractual aspects	139
	Direct and indirect parties to the transaction	140
	Commodity owner	140
	Warehouse operators	142
	Inspection companies and collateral managers	143
	Other commercial parties	145
	Country risks	145
	Impact on performance	145
	Transfer and other payment risks	146
	Legal and regulatory environment	147
	Structural considerations	148
11	Legal aspects	150
	Legal documentation	150
	Financial documents	150
	Facility agreement	150
	Security agreements	151
	Other financial documentation	151
	Supporting commercial documents	151
	Sales contracts	151
	Insurance documents	152
	Additional supporting documents	152
	Legal advice and opinion	152
	Legal opinions	153
	Which law?	154
	Inside versus outside legal advice	154
12	Evaluation of structured commodity finance techniques	156
	Providing attractive financing in difficult situations	156
	Supporting access to longer-term financing	157
	Supporting international trade	158
	Improving emerging markets economies	159
	Part 3 Third party credit enhancement: insurance and guarantees
	Introduction to Part 3	163
13	Insurance	165
	Political risk insurance	165
	History of political risk insurance	165
	Users of political risk insurance	166
	Events covered by political risk insurance	167
	Credit risk insurance	168
	History of credit risk insurance	168
	Users of credit risk insurance	169

	Events covered by credit risk insurance	169
	Providers of private political and credit risk insurance	169
	Main types of private insurers	170
	Specialised groups (credit risk)	170
	Independent specialised companies (credit risk)	170
	Specialised departments of large insurance groups (political and credit risk)	171
	Lloyd's syndicate (political and credit risk)	171
	Application to structured commodity finance	171
	Evaluation of political and credit risk insurance	171
14	Commodity price risk management	174
	Fixing export prices or establishing floors	176
	Linking interest rates to commodity prices	177
	Subsidising interest rates	179
	Evaluation of commodity price risk management	180
15	Guarantees	181
	Contractual bank guarantees	181
	Types and scope of contractual bank guarantees	181
	Applications to structured commodity finance	182
	Wrapping guarantees	183
	Types and scope of wrapping guarantees	183
	Applications to structured commodity finance	184
	Bank credit guarantees	185
	Types and scope of credit guarantees	185
	Applications to structured commodity finance	185
	Credit derivatives	186
	Types and scope of credit derivatives	187
	Application to structured commodity finance	187
	Evaluation of guarantees	188
16	Insurance and guarantees from export credit agencies	190
	Definition and overview of export credit agencies	190
	Main tenets of the OECD Consensus	194
	Regional export credit agencies – Afreximbank	195
	Application to structured commodity finance	197
	Evaluation of export credit agencies	199
17	Insurance and guarantees by other official entities	202
	Government supported insurance and guarantees	202
	Development finance institutions	202
	Sovereign and other government guarantees	203
	Other ways for government to support insurance and guarantees	203

	The World Bank Group	204
	IBRD	204
	IDA	206
	IFC	206
	MIGA	208
	Other ways for the World Bank Group to support insurance and guarantees	208
	Regional development banks	209
	Trade facilitation programs	209
	Emergence and mechanisms	210
	The post-2008 boost to trade finance facilitation	213
	Evaluation of other official providers of insurance and guarantees	214
18	Part 3 conclusion	216
	Part 4 Applications
	Introduction to Part 4	221
19	The longer-term financing needs of the commodity sector	223
	Equity funding	223
	Internal funds	223
	Issuing equity	224
	Debt funding	226
	Main capital debt instruments	227
	New debt issues	227
	Corporate versus transaction-based investment financing	228
20	Applicable commodities	230
	Hard commodities (natural resources)	230
	Gold	230
	Gold loan	231
	Gold sale repurchase	231
	Gold-backed loan (with floor)	232
	Prepaid forward gold sale	232
	Stream financing	234
	Other metals	234
	Steel	234
	Non-ferrous minerals and metals	236
	Oil and gas	238
	Oil field development and working capital financing	238
	Refinery working capital needs	241
	Oil products import financing	242
	Oil field services financing	243
	Royalty financing	244

	Soft commodities (agricultural commodities)	245
	Input supply	246
	Agricultural processing	247
	Agricultural exports	248
	Agricultural imports into emerging markets	249
	Other commodities	249
21	Sourcing trade and equipment finance	253
	Commercial partners	253
	Commodity financing as a renewed vocation for commodity traders	255
	Banks	255
	Structured commodity finance bank loans and facilities	255
	Lower default risk	256
	Bigger loan amounts and syndication potential for newcomers	257
	Higher profitability	257
	Stronger relationship with emerging markets' borrowers	258
	New opportunities for local banks	258
	The shift to the East	259
	The Basel Accords and structured commodity finance	260
	From Basel I to Basel III	260
	Measuring and managing risk under the Basel II Accord	262
	Basel III: new regulatory rules to contain banking risks	264
	Measuring and managing risk under Basel III	265
	Treatment of structured commodity finance under Basel I, II and III	266
	Multilateral development bank funded facilities	269
	Investment funds	273
	Funds investing in international trade finance	273
22	Islamic banking	279
	General principles	279
	Main instruments, as applied to the commodity sector	280
	Murabaha	281
	Mudaraba	286
	Musharaka	286
	Ijara Wa Iktina	287
	Muqarada	287
	Salam	287
	Istisna	288
	Sukuk	289
	Is Islamic banking a form of structured commodity finance?	291
23	Part 4 conclusion	293

Part 5 Final notes

24	Final notes	297
----	-------------	-----