

Employment and Career Motivation in the Arab Gulf States: The Rentier Mentality Revisited

Edited by Annika Kropf and Mohamed A. Ramady

Contents

Introduction and Overview	1
Annika Kropf and Mohamed A. Ramady
I. CAREER ASPIRATIONS OF STUDENTS
1. Meeting Career Expectations? The Perception of Female Students towards Employment in Oman's Segmented Labor Market	14
Marika Bontenbal
2. Self-Motivation Career Aspirations and Work Responsibilities: The Perspective of Saudi Male Undergraduates at King Fahd University of Petroleum and Minerals	35
Mark C. Thompson
3. The Perception of Young Emiratis on Emiratization	56
Lorraine A. Charles
II. SURVEYS OF EMPLOYEE MOTIVATION AND WORKPLACE VALUES
4. Cross-National Heterogeneity of Hofstede's 'Arab Countries'	77
Adel Hamaizia
5. Key Drivers for Employee Engagement and Productivity of GCC Nationals and Expatriates: A Longitudinal Study 2010-2012	122
David Jones
6. A Strengths-Based Approach to Enhancing Youth Motivation and Employability: Research and Practice from the GCC, with a Focus on Bahrain	158
Radhika Punshi, Cameron Mirza, and Gauri Gupta

III. ENTREPRENEURSHIP AS A SOLUTION TO THE UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEMS

7. The Two Universes of Entrepreneurship in the United Arab Emirates:
An Answer to the Gulf Employment Conundrum? 175
Joachim Kolb
8. Rents, Start-Ups, and Obstacles to SME Entrepreneurialism in Oman, Bahrain and Qatar 201
Jessie Moritz

IV. CULTURAL AND RELIGIOUS ROOTS OF BUSINESS ETHICS AND WORK MOTIVATION

9. Saudi Manufacturing: Can Monozukuri Take Root in the Kingdom? 223
Makio Yamada
10. The Anthropological Elements of Failed Saudization:
Historicism, Image, Islam and Tribe 243
Tanya Cariina Newbury-Smith
11. Setting the Agenda for Global Dialogue: A Theoretical and Practical Approach to Business Ethics in Saudi Arabia 264
David Cowan
- Bibliography 280
- About the Contributors 301
- Index 305