
Improving Urban Access

New approaches to funding
transport investment

Edited by
Elliott D. Sclar,
Måns Lönnroth, and
Christian Wolmar

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
List of contributors	xiii
1 Sustainability and social inclusion: the complexity of financing urban access	1
ELLIOTT D. SCLAR AND MÅNS LÖNNROTH
2 A field guide to the challenge of financing urban access	9
ELLIOTT D. SCLAR AND MÅNS LÖNNROTH
3 Shaping rapidly growing Chinese cities: lessons in the behavioural impacts of transport finance choices	24
JINHUA ZHAO AND DAVID BLOCK-SCHACHTER
4 The social meaning of “access”: lessons in transport governance from cities in developed countries	40
JAGO DODSON, MATTHEW BURKE, NEIL SIPE, AND ANTHONY PERL
5 Mobility and access when formal markets do not exist: lessons from cities in developing countries	61
JULIEN ALLAIRE, PABLO SALAZAR FERRO, BERNARD ABEIKU ARTHUR, AND JEAN-CLAUDE ZIV
6 Lessons from economics: mechanisms for financing mobility	84
KENNETH GWILLIAM
7 Value capture: why we may be disappointed	120
LAUREN AMES FISCHER AND ELLIOTT D. SCLAR

8	Why can't urban transport behave like other public services? explorations in public utility regulation	146
	ANDREA RIZVI
9	Measuring access, not mobility: a technical challenge	165
	ELLIOTT D. SCLAR AND MÅNS LÖNNROTH
10	Practical approaches to measuring access and social inclusion: lessons from Lisbon	170
	JOSÉ VIEGAS AND LUÍS MARTÍNEZ
11	Access and social complexity: identifying and managing access requirements across social groups and across the world	190
	ANTONIO PÁEZ
12	"What's past is prologue": stepping into the future	218
	ELLIOTT D. SCLAR AND MÅNS LÖNNROTH
	Index	226