Direct Real Estate Investment Evaluation

An Asset Dividing Appraisal Model Approach

uni-edition

Content

1	Real Estate Markets and Valuation Methods.....	1
2	The German and the Anglo-Saxon Tradition: the Real Estate Valuation Perspective	3
2.1	Real estate markets.....	3
2.2	The German gross rental method.....	11
2.2.1	Methodology	12
2.2.2	Parameters	16
2.3	The Discounted-Cash-Flow Method.....	21
2.3.1	The British Approach.....	22
2.3.2	The American Approach.....	23
2.3.3	Methodology	24
2.3.4	Parameter	25
2.4	Comparative consideration and appreciation of two valuation model approaches.....	27
2.4.1	Basics	27
2.4.2	The DCF-method	27
2.4.3	The German gross rental method.....	32
2.4.4	Final conclusions.....	35
3	Development of a model for evaluating direct real estate investments	39
3.1	Introduction and empirical based exploration.....	39
3.2	Methodological foundations and inductive derivation.....	44
3.2.1	Calculation rate p	44
3.2.2	Land return rate z	46
3.2.3	Annuity cash value factor (multiplier) v	48
3.2.4	Asset Rent Generation ARG and Asset Rate of Return ARR	49
3.3	Model calculation.....	51
4	Hypotheses.....	57
5	Methodology	59
5.1	Interaction calculation.....	59
5.2	Deterministic and probabilistic interaction functions	65
5.3	Arborescene analysis.....	66
5.4	Dependence analysis	66
5.5	Combination of the interaction calculation with empirical data	67
5.6	Simulation study and data collection	68
5.7	Statistic distribution	69

5.7.1	Beta distribution.....	69
5.7.2	Chi-Square distribution.....	70
5.7.3	Normal distribution.....	70
5.7.4	Distribution of the data material	71
5.7.5	Domain of the data material.....	76
5.7.6	Adjustment of the model calculation due to the determined domain	83
5.8	Conducting the mathematical analysis.....	84
5.8.1	Presentation depending on 2 different input variables in a three-dimensional space.....	85
5.8.2	Formation of the partial derivation and visualization of the marginal deviation	86
5.8.3	Simulation study	91
5.9	Discussion of the mathematical analyses and the hypotheses	94
6	Land value development in Germany and the Czech Republic	97
7	Practical implementation of the Model.....	101
8	Summary and implications for real estate valuation practice	123
