

Women in Agriculture Worldwide

Key issues and practical approaches

Edited by Amber J. Fletcher and Wendee Kubik

Contents

List of figures	viii
List of tables	x
Notes on contributors	xi
Acknowledgments	xiv

Introduction – Context and commonality: women in agriculture worldwide	1
AMBER J. FLETCHER AND WENDEE KUBIK

PART I
Women’s agricultural work: addressing inequality and invisibility	11
1 Australia – Understanding the “local” and “global”: intersections engendering change for women in family farming in Australia	13
JOSEPHINE CLARKE AND MARGARET ALSTON
2 Canada – Who’s counting ... on the farm?	23
JUNE CORMAN AND WENDEE KUBIK
3 South Africa – The plight of female farm workers on South African farms	39
MARIA-STELLA VETTORI
4 International – The System of Rice Intensification and its impacts on women: reducing pain, discomfort, and labor in rice farming while enhancing households’ food security	55
OLIVIA VENT, SABARMATEE, AND NORMAN UPHOFF

PART II

Gendering sustainability and food security 77

- 5 Bangladesh and Laos – Women and food security in South Asia 79

MARGARET ALSTON AND KERRI WHITTENBURY

- 6 Zimbabwe – “Livelihoods in a sack:” gendered dimensions of sack potato farming among poor households in urban Zimbabwe 91

MANASE KUDZAI CHIWESHE AND KUDZAI MACMILLAN
MUZANAGO

- 7 Burkina Faso – Diversifying the garden: a way to ensure food security and women’s empowerment 103

LIETTE VASSEUR

- 8 India – Reviving and strengthening women’s position and agency in ensuring household food security: the role of home gardens 116

RENGALAKSHMI RAJ, E.D.I. OLIVER KING, B. RAGHINI,
S. ABUBAKER SIDDICK, VENKATESAN GURUMOORTHY,
AND G. KALEESWARI

PART III

Women’s empowerment in policy and finance 131

- 9 Tanzania – Improving agricultural land security for women: assessing the FAO’s Voluntary Guidelines on land tenure 133

ANDREA M. COLLINS

- 10 Tanzania – Addressing challenges of rural women: a focus on Tanzania 147

GODBERTHA KINYONDO

- 11 Kenya – Can sustainability be enGENDERed through informal microfinance? A case study of the Kamba merry-go-rounds in Ukambani, Eastern Province, Kenya 160

CARLYN JAMES

12	Brazil – Participation of women farmers in food procurement programs in Brazil	177
	ANDREA MORAES AND CECILIA ROCHA
13	International – The rise of institutional food procurement: a tool for empowering women or furthering the status quo?	189
	BRYAN CRAWFORD-GARRETT, CLARE MBIZULE, KARIN WACHTER, AND BRIAN SAGE
PART IV
	Working for social change	207
14	Morocco – From empowerment to transformative leadership: intersectional analysis of women workers in the strawberry sector of Morocco	209
	JULIE THÉROUX-SÉGUIN
15	United States of America – Building power through community: women creating and theorizing change	225
	ANGIE CARTER, BETTY WELLS, ASHLEY HAND, AND JESSICA SOULIS
16	Canada – Ploughing new ground: a feminist interpretation of youth farm internships in Ontario, Canada	240
	JAN KAINER
17	Conclusion – What works for women in agriculture?	257
	AMBER J. FLETCHER
	Index	269