SERIES

STUDIES AND PERSPECTIVES

47

ECLAC SUBREGIONAL HEADQUARTERS FOR THE CARIBBEAN

Regional approaches to e-government initiatives in the Caribbean

Robert Crane Williams
Michele Marius

UNITED NATIONS

ECLAC

Contents

Abstract 5

Introduction 7

I. E-government in the Caribbean 11
A. Barbados 13
1. Policy framework for e-government 13
2. Select e-government initiatives 14
B. Jamaica 15
1. Policy framework for e-government 15
2. Select e-government initiatives 16
C. Saint Vincent and the Grenadines 18
1. Policy framework for e-government 18
2. Select e-government initiatives 19
D. Trinidad and Tobago 21
1. Policy framework for e-government 21
2. Select e-government initiatives 23

II. Regional initiatives in e-government 25
A. EGRIP 26
B. CARCIP 29
C. HIPCAR 30
D. PUICA eastern Caribbean modernization project 31
E. ASYCUDA 32
F. CARIPASS 33

III. Key challenges to regional cooperation on e-government projects 35
A. Differing policies and priorities 35
B. Financial limitations 36
C. Differing systems and processes 36
D. Differing levels of development and infrastructure 36
E. Procurement limitations 36

F. National politics 37
G. Individualist ideals 37
H. Change management concerns 38

IV. Recommended practices for implementing regional e-government initiatives 39
A. Agree on common objectives and goals 39
B. Ensure country commitment 40
C. Enable a participatory posture 41
D. Manage project resources at a regional level 41
E. Encourage common interoperability standards 41
F. Consider long-term sustainability 42
G. Make prudent use of open source software 42

V. Conclusion 45

Bibliography 47

Annexes 53
Annex 1 Review of select government services 54
Annex 2 Resource persons interviewed 56
Annex 3 Interview questions 57

Studies and Perspectives Series: issues published 59