

A New Economics for Modern Dynamic Economies

Innovation, uncertainty and entrepreneurship

Angelo Fusari

Contents

List of figures	xv
List of tables	xvii
Preface	xviii

PART I

Theoretical frame	1
1 Innovation, uncertainty, entrepreneurship: modeling the dynamic process of the economy	3
2 Mainstream economics and heterodox economics: a misleading controversy – necessary system versus natural system	33
3 An explanation of economic change and development	51
4 A micro representation of the innovation-adaptation mechanism driving economic dynamics	97
5 An analysis on the theory of the firm: organizational forms and dimensions	137
6 Radical uncertainty, dynamic competition and a model of the business cycle: the implications of a measure and an explanation of what is supposed immeasurable and unexplainable	157

PART II

Problems of political economy: the need for reformations	191
7 An overview of the economic process	193
8 The role of demand in contemporary economics: theoretical and operational ambiguities and misunderstandings	201
9 Economic dualism: a model concerning Italy	216
10 Money, interest rate and financial markets	232
11 The ethical dimension: creativity and social justice	245
12 Toward a noncapitalist market system: spontaneous order and organization	253
 Index of names	 271
Subject index	274