Tomoko Hashino • Keijiro Otsuka
Editors

Industrial Districts in History and the Developing World
Contents

Part I Introduction

1. Beyond Marshallian Agglomeration Economies
   Tomoko Hashino and Keijiro Otsuka

2. Toward a New Paradigm of the Long-Term Development of Industrial Districts
   Tetsushi Sonobe, Keijiro Otsuka, and Tomoko Hashino

Part II Pivotal Role of Technology Transfer

3. Technology Transfer and the Early Development of the Cotton Textile Industry in Nineteenth Century Spain
   Jordi Domenech and Joan Ramon Rosés

4. Contrasting Development Paths of Silk-Weaving Districts in Modern Japan
   Tomoko Hashino

5. Emergence and Subsequent Development of Garment Clusters in Bangladesh and Tanzania
   Tetsushi Sonobe

Part III Central Role of Producer Cooperatives

6. Trade Associations and Economic Regulation in the Lyons Fabrique: From the 1860s to the 1920s
   Pierre Vernus

7. Development of High-Value Agricultural Districts: The Role of Producer Cooperatives in Japan and Developing Countries
   Keijiro Otsuka
Part IV   Supporting Role of Local Government

8   Industrial Districts in Europe: Policy Lessons for Developing Countries? ................................................................. 117
    Hubert Schmitz and Bernard Musyck

9   Promotion of the Weaving Districts in Modern Japan ............................................. 153
    Tomoko Hashino

10  Low-Quality Crisis and Quality Improvement: The Case of Industrial Clusters in Zhejiang Province ................... 169
    Jianqing Ruan and Xiaobo Zhang

Index ......................................................................................................................... 191