Ricardo and International Trade

Edited by Shigeyoshi Senga, Masatomi Fujimoto, and Taichi Tabuchi
Contents

List of figures vii
List of tables viii
List of contributors ix

Introduction: Ricardo's international trade theory 200 years on 1
TAICHI TABUCHI, MASATOMI FUJIMOTO,
AND SHIGEYOSHI SENGA

PART I
Ricardo's 'four magic numbers' and beyond 7

1 A plain man's guide to David Ricardo's principle of comparative advantage 9
HEINZ D. KURZ

2 Ricardo and international trade theory 20
ROY J. RUFFIN

3 David Ricardo's trade theory: anticipations and later developments 33
ANDREA MANESCHI

4 Yukizawa's interpretation of Ricardo's 'theory of comparative costs' 48
TAICHI TABUCHI

5 The Ricardian system: a graphical exposition 60
NERI SALVADORI AND RODOLFO SIGNORINO
PART II
Money and/or international values

6 A calm investigation into Mr Ricardo's principles of international trade
   GILBERT FACCARELLO
   85

7 Money and Ricardo's "magic numbers"
   JÉRÔME DE BOYER DES ROCHES
   120

8 Foreign trade, international values, and gains from trade: Ricardo, Pennington, Whewell, and John Stuart Mill
   CHRISTIAN GEHRKE
   139

9 Equilibrium in the international economy: Ricardo's specie flow mechanism - logic and development
   SHIGEHIRO NARUSE
   164

10 On Ricardo's two rectification problems
   YOSHINORI SHIOZAWA
   195

PART III
Controversies over Ricardian international trade theory and policy

11 Foreign trade, profits, and growth: a comparative study of Ricardo and Malthus
   ATSUSHI MASUNAGA
   219

12 J. S. Mill's idea of international trade: the inheritance from Ricardo's free trade and Torrens' reciprocity
   MASATOMI FUJIMOTO
   237

13 Ricardo and the Committee on Agricultural Distress of 1821
   MASAHARU HATTORI
   254

Index
   273