

Doughnut Economics

Seven Ways to Think
Like a 21st Century Economist

KATE RAWORTH

Chelsea Green Publishing
White River Junction, Vermont

CONTENTS

Who Wants to be an Economist?	1
1. Change the Goal from GDP to the Doughnut	27
2. See the Big Picture from self-contained market to embedded economy	53
3. Nurture Human Nature from rational economic man to social adaptable humans	81
4. Get Savvy with Systems from mechanical equilibrium to dynamic complexity	111
5. Design to Distribute from 'growth will even it up again' to distributive by design	139
6. Create to Regenerate from 'growth will clean it up again' to regenerative by design	175
7. Be Agnostic about Growth from growth addicted to growth agnostic	207
We Are All Economists Now	243
Acknowledgements	251
Appendix: The Doughnut and Its Data	254
Notes	259
Bibliography	286
Image Credits	297
Index	298