Contents

List of figures and tables viii
List of contributors x

Introduction 1
Steven W. Floyd and Bill Wooldridge

PART I THE UNIT OF ANALYSIS

1 The role of middle and top managers in the strategy process 13
Xavier Castañer and Howard Yu

2 Functions of the mezzanine 33
Amurag Sharma

3 Some middle managers are more influential than others: an approach for identifying strategic influence 56
Bill Wooldridge and Steven W. Floyd

PART II EXPLORATIONS OF EXISTING THEORY

4 The role of issue selling in effective strategy making 77
Susan J. Ashford, Madeline Ong, and Gareth D. Keeves

5 Strategy-as-practice research on middle managers and sensemaking 109
Julia Balogun and Linda Rouleau

6 Middle managers’ emotion management in the strategy process 133
Quy Nguyen Huy and Yidi Guo

7 Middle managers: the lynchpins in the corporate entrepreneurship process 154
Donald F. Kuratko

PART III THEORETICAL DEVELOPMENTS

8 Developing theory about the development of theory 177
Henry Mintzberg
9 Complex strategic integration at Nike: strategy process and strategy-as-practice combined
Robert A. Burgelman

10 A conceptual framework of middle managers' strategic role flexibility
Ruifang Wang, Patrick T. Gibbons, and Ciaran Heavey

11 Mintzberg's pattern: middle managers in a polyphonic strategy process
Saku Mantere

12 Middle management engagement in strategic planning routines: a mindfulness perspective
Carola Wolf

PART IV METHODOLOGICAL ALTERNATIVES

13 Middle management and strategy process: toward a pluralistic theory of power
Torsten Schmid

14 Measuring the middle: the use of social network analysis in middle management research
David G. Cohen and Sudhir Nair

15 Choreographies we strategize by: using video methodology in the study of embodiment Philip Gylfe

PART V EMPIRICAL EXPLORATIONS

16 A psychological perspective on middle managers' strategic championing behavior
Nüfer Yasin Ates, Murat Tarakci, Yoojung Ahn, Steven W. Floyd, and Bill Wooldridge

17 The knowledge brokering role of middle managers: the case of hybrid middle managers in a professionalized organization
Graeme Currie and Nicola Burgess

18 Middle managers and corporate entrepreneurship: unpacking strategic roles and assessing performance implications
Johanna Mair
19 The interface of top and middle managers: taking stock and moving forward 473

Anneloes M. L. Raes and Koen van Vlijmen

Index 493