Ordoliberalism, Law and the Rule of Economics

Edited by
Josef Hien
Christian Joerges

HART PUBLISHING
OXFORD AND PORTLAND, OREGON
2017
Table of Contents

Preface and Acknowledgements ................................................................................. v
List of Contributors ................................................................................................... ix
List of Abbreviations ................................................................................................. xv

Introduction: Objectives and Contents of the Volume ...................................................... 1
Josef Hien and Christian Joerges

Section I: Irritations/Perceptions of Ordoliberalism and of German Politics

1.  Dirigisme and Modernism vs Ordoliberalism ......................................................... 13
   Bruno Amable

2.  Why and How has German Ordoliberalism Become a French Issue?
    Some Aspects about Ordoliberal Thoughts we can Learn from the French Reception ......................................................... 23
   Arnaud Lechevalier

3.  Ordoliberalism’s Trans-Atlantic (Un)Intelligibility: From Friedman and Eucken to Geithner and Schäuble ......................................................... 49
   William Callison

4.  The Tepid Reception of Ordoliberalism in Italy and Present-Day Dissent ...... 71
   Stefano Solari

5.  Ordoliberalism as Tradition and as Ideology ............................................................... 87
   Kenneth Dyson

Section II: The Political Liberalism of Ordoliberalism

6.  Ordoliberalism as a Variety of Neoliberalism ........................................................... 103
   Thomas Biebricher

7.  Breaking the ‘Caging’ Mentality: Ordoliberalism, Responsibility and Solidarity in the EU ................................................................. 115
   Maurizio Ferrera

8.  What is Neoliberal in Germany’s and Europe’s Crisis Politics? ......................... 129
   Brigitte Young

9.  The Success Story of Ordoliberalism as the Guiding Principle of German Economic Policy ................................................................. 143
   Stephan Pühringer
viii Table of Contents

Section III: The Ordering Functions of Law in the Ordoliberal Tradition

10. Debunking the Myth of the Ordoliberal Influence on Post-war European Integration ................................................................. 161
   Angela Wigger

11. The Overburdening of Law by Ordoliberalism and the Integration Project ............................................................... 179
   Christian Joerges

12. Ordoliberal Escape from Societas Economica: Re-establishing the Normative .................................................. 201
   Michelle Everson

Section IV: The Moral and Normative Dimension of ‘the Economic’ and the Ordoliberal Tradition

13. Ordoliberalism, Polanyi, and the Theodicy of Markets ........................................... 215
   David M. Woodruff

14. Ordoliberalism Within and Outside Germany’s Co-ordinated Market Economy ........................................................... 229
   Albert Weale

15. Competition or Conflict? Beyond Traditional Ordoliberalism ........................................ 245
   Malte Dold and Tim Krieger

16. Ordoliberalism and the Quest for Sacrality ................................................... 261
   Josef Hien

Section V: Government without Law

17. Ordoliberalism and Political Theology: On the Government of Stateless Money ........................................... 273
   Werner Bonefeld

18. Policy Between Rules and Discretion ...................................................... 289
   Jonathan White

19. How Monetary Rules and Wage Discretion get into Conflict in the Eurozone (And What—if Anything—Ordoliberalism has to do with it) ................................................... 301
   Philip Manow

Index ........................................................................................................... 317